Dear Juan Antonio Rodriguez Renuncio:

On behalf of the Government of the Republic of Korea and the IChO-2006 Organizing Committee, it is my great honor to invite your delegation, officially representing your country, to participate in the 38th International Chemistry Olympiad (IChO-2006), to be held at Yeungnam University at Gyeongsan, Korea, in the period of July 2 through 11, 2006.

You may send an official delegation, consisting of up to four competing students along with two mentors. As for the qualifications of the participating students, you are kindly requested to refer to the IChO regulations which can be found at our official website, <http://icho2006.kcsnet.or.kr>. You may also send one scientific observer to assist your mentors during the Olympiad. We also welcome a few guests from your country with the clear understanding they may not participate in the competition process in any capacity. The registration fee for a scientific observer and guests has been set at USD $1,500 per person by the IChO regulations.

The IChO-2006 Organizing Committee will provide your delegation with meals, accommodations and local transportation to and from the official airport, and various activities, cultural and otherwise, during the entire period of the 38th IChO. Our official airport will be the Gimhae Int'l Airport in Busan (Airport Code: PUS). Please be aware of the fact based on the IChO regulations that all members of a delegation must have proper medical insurance for the journey to/from Korea and the stay in Korea.

Enclosed please find the Country Registration Form, which is to be returned before February 20, 2006. The preparatory problems of IChO-2006 will be sent to you through airmail and will be uploaded at the website from the end of January 2006. Please visit the IChO-2006 website for the latest news and information on the official airport. Please acknowledge for receiving this invitation by e-mail at secretary@icho2006.kcsnet.or.kr or by airmail.

All members of the IChO-2006 Organizing Committee and staff are looking forward to welcoming your delegation to Korea in July. We will do our best to make your stay in Korea pleasant and fruitful.

Sincerely yours,

Dal Woon, Lee Ph.D.
Chairman, Organizing Committee of IChO-2006
